Replacement information

Development support (defect corrections) will not be available after April 30, 2016. After this date, technical support will only be available to provide best effort support on usage of the Cognos Series 7 products.

Customers will have the option to:

1. Continue to renew their Subscription and Support agreement on their Cognos Series 7 licenses through to the withdrawal of support date while acknowledging that technical support will only be available to provide best effort support beyond April 30, 2016.
2. At any time before April 30, 2018, trade up their Cognos Series 7 licenses covered by a valid Subscription and Support agreement to Cognos Business Intelligence licenses and receive 12 months Subscription and Support on the Cognos Business Intelligence trade-up licenses, as well as continued support on their traded Cognos Series 7 licenses through to the original expiry date of the Subscription and Support agreement on those licenses.

Technical support

Remote technical support is provided as defined by the International Passport Advantage® Agreement through April 30, 2016.

Refer to the Software support website for product support information

<http://www.ibm.com/software/support/>

Effective May 1, 2016, Technical support will be available on a "best effort" basis. This means we will assist customers in resolving issues but Development assistance is no longer available. No new defect corrections will be available.

Order processing

IBM will accept orders for products and parts up until, but no later than, three business days before the effective date of withdrawal. If you defer the shipment date currently assigned to an existing order for a withdrawn product or part, IBM may not be able to supply the product or part. IBM will process existing orders without assigned shipment dates and new orders on an as-available basis. If supply is available, IBM will assign an estimated shipment date. Otherwise, IBM will advise you, within one month of the effective withdrawal date that your order cannot be accepted.

You may cancel existing orders for withdrawn products and parts before shipment without penalty.

Your IBM representative or your IBM Business Partner can provide information about available replacement products and parts.

Trade-marks
